Campers are charged R10 per vehicle on arrival, and visitors pay R2,50 per day merely to visit someone in the camp. The kiosk opens and shuts on the whim of the supervisor, and bungalows and rooms are only for whites. Sometimes blacks and coloureds are told that the camp is fully booked.

Only whites are allocated the ablution blocks near the beach. This is unfair. We are one nation, why should we be so divided? Many of the tourists who went to Mile 4 during the holiday season 1990-1 will agree with my viewpoints.

I appeal to the Ministry of Defence to improve the conditions there before tourists lose interest.

Women on tax

I WOULD like the Finance Minister, Dr Otto Herrigel, to clarify a few points concerning the article 'Women to benefit from tax changes' in The Namibian of Monday January 27.

The article said that there will be changes in the current discrimination against women, particularly married women. My questions are:

- why is the emphasis only on married women? Is it because unmarried women do not pay taxes or is it because they are not discriminated against?

- why should married women be singled out as victims of discrimination and what is the case with unmarried women in this regard?

Thanks for soccer

I WOULD like to make an appeal through your newspaper to NBC management. First of all I would like to thank them for starting to screen local soccer, and secondly, to do one of the following: either get rid of Gary Sales, Seb Kamungu and John Matongo as soccer commentators or send them on a course.

With all respect I think these men are unprofessional and I think that Stuart Super will agree with me.

Dobra complaints

I WOULD like to air my views on the unsatisfactory situation at Dobra School. Since the start of the school year, things have not functioned well. We have a new principal who is presently still re-structuring things together with his vice. From January 16 to 25 we have had no lessons or studies and we only got our books on January 24 and 25.

I remember that when we had Mr Agapitus as principal our classes started the day after the opening of the school. The question is why the principal did not re-structure during the holidays.

I am also afraid that the new principal may be an autocrat. I deduced that from the way in which he stopped a YES (Young
