

Not Swapo bomb

SWAPO has nothing to do with the bomb blast at Oshakati. I am only one of the many Namibians who will neither agree nor accept racist South Africa's malicious propaganda campaign against Swapo and the people of Namibia. South Africa through its puppets and mass media continue to deceive and mislead Namibians as to the true situation in our country.

I feel deeply hurt at the loss of lives of innocent civilians at Oshakati. It is not the first time that the people of Namibia are intimidated, harassed and killed by the racists of Pretoria.

Who was responsible? There are many instances as examples; 1981 bomb blast at Oshakati Post Office, fortunately no injuries; 1998 bomb blast at Okatana service Station, killing two Americans and a local businessman, Mr Nakambonde; 1985 bomb blast at Ondangwa Post Office, killing many people including children; 1985 bomb blast at the Ongwediva Training Centre, fortunately no casualties; 1986 someone tried to plant a bomb at Mr Frans Indongo's Continental Supermarket, fortunately he was caught red-handed and felt very ashamed; 1986 security forces tried to plant a bomb for CDA President Peter Kalangula, but this too failed.

Further still, there are many, many Namibians who have either been killed or who disappeared, and I am citing the following examples; Mathias Ashipembe, David Sheehama, Fillemon Elifas, Joseph Dumeni and many others. These are merely some examples of atrocities committed by South Africa against the people of Namibia, and for which Swapo gets the blame.

Many Namibians do not have homes or property any more, as these have been destroyed by the racist's Casspirs. Swapo has never committed any such act against the people of this country, which we cannot say about South Africa. Racist South Africa is to be blamed for numerous atrocities against Namibians, and I call upon the international community to quickly intervene. We, the people of Namibia will continue to call for your withdrawal from our beloved land, even if you rape, imprison, maim, kill and destroy our property. We call upon you, racist South Africa, to unconditionally withdraw your forces from Namibia and to allow the implementation of UN Resolution 435, so that peace and justice may come to our country.
