

Musician Street Names A Joke

THE proposal by the Windhoek Municipality to name streets after musicians like Louis Armstrong, John Coltane, Elvis Presley and John Lennon, etc. is not only laughable, but ridiculous.

How many Namibians have heard or appreciated the music of these people? This exercise is a waste of taxpayers' good money.

Africa has had great sons and daughters who inspired the liberation of our continent and who deserve to be remembered: Kwame Nkrumah, Kenneth Kaunda, Julius Nyerere Albert Luthuli, Sekou Toure, Agostino Neto, Hake Selassie, Edwardo Mondlane, Patrice Lumumba, Jomo Kenyata, Tafawa Balewa, Samora Michel and Chris Hani to name a few.

John Lennon Street, Elvis Presley Drive, Louis Armstrong Avenue is an insult to our intelligence.

DISGUSTED, WINDHOEK
