

Sick Of Torture

I HAVE been sick and depressed since yesterday after reading and seeing the horrible picture of Geoffrey Mwilima in the cover story headlined "Five torture cases settled" (The Namibian, July 8). I found it nauseating that fellow Namibians can inflict such an irreparable wound on another in this country of peace and calm.

The most annoying aspect of it is the so called "out of court settlement" was kept secret thereby denying the public the right to news. I salute your gallantry to overcome fear and print the picture for the masses to see. Kudos to your versatile reporter Werner Menges.
