

Walvis Youth Vow To Tackle Crime

IT IS Christmas and crime is increasing everywhere in Namibia. The coast is the target of the robbers and those attacking other people.

The reason is, there is only one Police vehicle to assist about 5 000 people of Walvis Bay. The rest have been damaged and in accidents. The Government vehicles which have been in the country for barely three years have been destroyed. Officials are destroying what is purchased with our our tax money, the violence is increasing and we are without transport.

A week ago four men attacked an elderly person in Walvis Bay. Three days after that a certain businessman in Kuisebmond was assaulted in his house. The worst of all is that the Police renders bad service.

The youth will not allow the elderly, businesses and other people to be attacked in the streets for nothing. We, the youth, will take the law in our own hands and we will hit back hard.

We are directing a friendly request to the Government, Police Commissioner and the Mayor, Mrs Samaria, in Walvis Bay: stop the violence in Walvis Bay; we are not afraid of fighting back, we are just brought up well.

Every weekend someone is assaulted. We think the Police station commander at Kuisebmond should do something about that.

The only people who stop crime at Walvis Bay are "Community against Crime". Magnificent, guys, we are proud of you. Mrs Samaria, bring more vehicles and English-speaking Police to the police stations so that we can just understand each other.
