

On 'Bothacracy'

IN RESPONSE to Mr Veripi Mungunda's idle talks in The Namibian of July 10 on the topic 'Coward Lister', I would like to point out the following:

1. Lister - nationality and patriotism: I feel it is Ms Lister's full right to express herself against the injustices and brutalities conducted against the Namibian national, irrespective of where she was born. She is a more credible Namibian than you, who are selling out your nation, your country and its natural resources. She pays taxes as all Namibians do, and in addition, contributes actively to bringing about of peace and stability to Namibia, while you keep yourself tribalistic and passive. Beloved Lister, keep on, every good work deserves a reward.

2. OPO - SWAPO - an Ovambo party: OPO has not existed for a long time. It has been the South West Africa People's Organisation, Swapo of Namibia, for a long time. How dare you call it an Ovambo party, although it is a Namibian national political movement?

3. CCN - priests, puppets Shame on you, Mungunda. These people represent the Namibian nation (the Council of Churches in Namibia). They are renowned for fighting for peace, justice and liberty, and committing themselves to the spiritual care of all Christians.

4. Swapo generals - where are they? Swapo has been willing to sign an armistice with the Pretoria regime and latter has failed to agree to it. And now, Mr Mungunda? Swapo did not glorify war, but was forced to take up arms against those you praise.

5. NCU - a truly Christian body Could a truly Christian body request the dismantling of its own nation's refugee camps? Camps where Christian Namibians reside? Who do they think will house Namibians fleeing from the racial laws in this country? Do they think it is easy to stay outside the country without proper supervision and do they think it is easy to provide such supervision there?

I finally wish to condemn Veripi and his puppet structure for:

☐ claiming that apartheid laws are dead in Namibia;

☐ requesting pre-independence development aid and recognition of the interim government internationally;

☐ supporting the unelected, unrepresentative so-called interim government;

☐ affiliating to an ethnic-based party such as Nudo;

☐ legitimising SA's presence in Namibia by being part of reactionary forces such as Etango, Swapol, Swatf.

I also condemn the interim government for their 'secret services' and propaganda of indoctrination and discrediting Swapo with our tax monies. They urge Pretoria's forces to 'exterminate Swapo' and 'hit them harder' which automatically causes people to leave the country.

We have never been deceived by Vorster's regime nor will we be deceived by Bothacracy. Remember that, Veripi.
