

Police taxis?

ALLOW me, as a taxpayer, to air my grievances to the public, and especially to the Minister of Home Affairs.

Since independence I have noticed that policemen don't do their duties properly anymore. We as taxpayers are confused by the manner in which police vans are used. They are now acting as taxis between Khomasdal and Katutura and police are transporting friends, and girlfriends, from nightclub to nightclub, especially from the following places: Club Thriller, Pamodzi, Namibia Nite and Suidwes Cafe.

People who lay charges wait from between two to five hours because they are told there are no cars available, but in the meantime they are being used as above.

In this case I see that the police are exploiting the taxpayers, myself included. I think it is better to employ 10 policemen to do their duties properly than to employ 100 who exploit the taxpayers.

It is far better to use police cars for people who call for help instead of sending them out to do taxi jobs. Think about our taxpayers' money please.
